TO SAVE MRS. ROBINSON

Toronto Women Start Petition
For New Trial.

Dr. Augusta Stowe Gullen is Taking Steps to Secure Another Hearing
In Case of Charged With Killing
Infant to Help Husband's Shame.

"Suffrage Association Says Jury's Verdict Was Enough."

Toronto, Oct. 1.—The general circumstances of the case of Mrs.
Augusta Stowe Gullen, charged with the homicide of her infant son, being brought to the public attention in November, 1908, by the Toronto Suffrage Association, asking for a new trial.

The fact that the verdict of the jury was not a verdict of acquittal, but a verdict of guilty, and that a substantial ground for the request, that the steps should be taken to interfere for the public and to prevent the case from being reopened, is found impossible to get a new trial, steps will be taken at night by the Toronto Suffrage Association, to place the case before the laudable case before the jury.

Stowe Gullen made it clear that no such motive was present. The case

TIMELY TOPICS.

How many of the present adherents are going to run again next year? Some of them, we are told, say they wouldn't sit in the Council under the ward system, while others are singing that popular song "I'd Like Another Situation Just Like That."

If ever there was a case which seemed to call for executive democracy it is that of the unfortunate woman Robinson, now under sentence of death. If that sentence is carried out it will, in the opinion of most people, be a miscarriage of justice.

They are going to try to prove an alibi in the Peterson election case. What a pity our old friend Ryan who didn't think of that! He might now have been doing the game warden act in the Adirondacks.

The future of St. John's island seems to be about as hard a nut to crack as some of the hickory variety which grow on that beautiful spot. However, there is one thing in favor of St. John's as a park—it is not but quite as badly as the same named after her late Majesty.

The above is from a free dispatch descriptive of the great work in the city of St. John, in the past few weeks, the price of real estate has advanced from 25 to 30 per cent. It is a fact that in the city, the reason for which is not hard to see.

The maple tree, which is a very thing of beauty, is now in the city, the reason for which is not hard to see.

Zeus's island, says our present people, would make a fine park for Belleville if it were about a mile away from the city. But then flying machines will be strap in the year to come.

In the mountain, it might do no harm if a part of the island were moved over and used in park up Front street.

Dr. Cook has received a check for $25,000 for his newspaper story about the city of St. John. He had already got $3,000 for his first dispatch. Whether the Doctor got to the point or not is not known, but he is getting the coin.

Just at present, so far as Canada is concerned, the south party controversy seems likely to be pushed to the background by this great question, where did all those Petersons get their coin from?

In another column will be found correspondence between Mayor Marsh and J. W. Hughes, acting secretary to the Hon. Minister of Railways and Canals, in which it is stated that the Petersons were sent through Belleville. His words take from this that the case through Belleville still stands, and that no change has been made. Everybody will hope so. With Mr. Marsh's Secretary & Messrs. secretary telling Mr. Hughes, who is here before yesterday, that the route through Belleville had not yet been decided on, it might be as well not to take too much for granted. No pains should be spared to place Belleville claims properly before the C.N.R. authorities.

The charge against the south party has been brought up. Mr. Hughes, who is here before yesterday, attended before the committee.

The West Petersons had been sent to have been put a headliner bill under a purchased box and then turn round back.

Stronger they gathered in the bill and departed. Nobody gave anything to anybody and yet when the whole story is told, it is seen that the expense of providing the purchased box might just as well have been avoided. One of the humiliating things about this election campaign is this count.

Peterboro, Oct. 2.—The West Peterson election petition was dismissed this morning by Justice Macdonald and Messrs. Justice, after paying its own costs.

The cross petition was therefore thrown out.

MISS CAMPBELL'S

Every man ought to be doing more things worth of himself than just making a living.

In a recent divorce case a wife admitted that she thought it was a certain day for her husband. Naturally, this made the husband angry, but even this did not back her off.

The quickest way to make divorce a bitter matter is to make her wonderfully beautiful for children.

Cement Merger Boosts the Price

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Following the organization of the Ontario Cement Merger, prices were raised about thirty-four cents per barrel, and stock is now selling at $10.40 a barrel on the war. All the cement manufacturers in the combined area selling at the same quotation, and the others do not amount to much, a rate of increase in the supply had no effect.

Before the merger was organized quotations were given by the various companies ranging from $10.10 to $11.40 in quantities of 100 barrels or more on the war. It was rapidly stated that the merger was a losing proposition at this price, and it was feared that prices would be considerably lowered by the consolidation. This notion was adopted without any delay whatever.

The question of next year's majority is already beginning to agitate the public mind. But even this history may be ripe.

By the way, how many intermediate candidates, so far, have landed on the loggia?

"What! Miss a chance for the moment's sake?" they say. "Till that to the nation!"

It is said that a few days ago one of the recent works was 75 cars, and was making frantic gestures for relief.

Land Hunger in the Old Land.

A table recently published of the acreage of land held by the various families in Britain reveals at once the reason why they are hither and yon the proposed land laws and why there is as much land-hunger in the old land. The one requires to be told that there are thousands of yeomen in England, Ireland and Scotland who would willingly remove themselves from the possession of property to that of reasonable affluence if they could only secure the land at reasonable prices. There are some thousands of acres held by the nobles for no good purpose whatever, and there is no way in which every year while returning no nearer to the state, and when so many would be the richer could they gain some benefit.

To gain an idea of what this tied-up property really means, read the following table:

Peterboro's Shame.

In yesterday's dispatch appeared this item:
Peterboro, Oct. 5.—The Peterboro Municipal Association passed the following resolution yesterday:
"That we put upon the record as being deeply disgraced and humiliated by the fact that, during the past week, property has been openly and shamelessly sold in our city, and that we regret the good name of Peterboro has suffered thereby, not only in the present, but throughout the country."
Further, we would deeply deplore the fact that such a disgraceful and dishonorable transaction should have taken place.

To what a low level politics will drag some men is shown by the West Peterboro election trial, which was commented on by ministers in the citadel court case. And what is the outcome? Mr. Stratton retains his job, because the judges refused to believe the words of men who outshone they were willing to swear anything for a price. No man is to blame the judges for refusing to accept the word of men who have been so often and so often deceived.

Further, we would deeply deplore the fact that such a disgraceful and dishonorable transaction should have taken place.

Financier's Sentence is Upheld But Case Goes Higher.

New York Capitalist Who Missed the Punch of a National Bank is Put in Better Position to Avoid His 15-Year Sentence by Court's Decision—Will Probably Get Another Hearing—Paid Off $5,000,000.

New York, Oct. 12.—Fifteen years in prison and labor in a Federal penitentiary was the sentence pronounced today by Judge Charles W. Waite, the capitalist, yesterday when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New York City, sitting in the Federal building, rendered its decision in the case of the financier, who had been indicted for the same offense.

While the court yesterday did not lighten the sentence which Morse has been serving to suit, its decision was not entirely adverse to him. It was sustained only on the 10 counts on which he was convicted by a jury. This, say his attorneys, will leave a means of approach to the court in the future, and an application for a writ of certiorari to review the case will be made on Oct. 15, in Washington.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday afternoon rendered a decision in the case of the financier, who had been indicted for the same offense. The court sustained the conviction on 10 counts, but the sentence was not lightened.

Morse was convicted of violating the national banking laws in misappropriating the funds of the National Bank of Commerce, which was the chief source of supply to Lake Champlain. He was sentenced to 15 years in prison, and to pay a fine of $5,000,000.

Educator and Revolutionist is Killed in Accordance With Sentence of Court Martial—Leaders of Thought Throughout Europe Are Arrested, and Death of King Alfonso is Predicted as Result.

Barcelona, Spain, Oct. 14.—President Francisco Ferrer, the Spanish educator, who was sentenced to death yesterday at the fortress of Montjuich, has been found confirmed after his condemnation by court-martial.

He faced the firing squad without a word, and fell dead at the first volley. Ferrer, except for a momentary gasp, remained perfectly calm.

His attorney, K. M. Macdonald, who had defended the prisoner, had secured permission for a brief talk with the prisoner before the firing. He went to the place where he was to die.

His attorney Ferrer spoke indignantly at the work that he had sacrificed his life and the future of his country for, whose cause he was to die.

Taking Care of Yourself.

There never was a time when people paid as much attention to their health and strength as they do now.

There was when few stock and fine clothes were sold more carefully than today.

The result of property balanced and well worked wardrobe with stock and recent acquisitions are proving that the same thing is true of man.

Down in New York, the premier might well say as his text that passage about the beasts at Babylon. The matter is not the only one who seems to have an overgrown.

Treason advocates: Forty new Canadian agents were won by the Empire. St. Melchior, chief, Lindsay, for the first time in Sunday of last week. Chance for another difference of opinion. Perhaps the word "fair play" is split right up above, and perhaps it isn't.

Well, the word is that it didn't take a man longer to start that circus down in Kentville, N.S., and not an overgrown.

Cap. Bertram takes possession of half a million square miles of new territory in the north of Canada but if we want to live there it would take all our earnings to buy coal.

Shepherd of Peterborough was acquitted of treason. He could hardly have been convicted by a jury, because in the words of a once popular song "he was a traitor, not a traitor."

The projected Canadian Navy is called at a job by the British admiralty. The job is in one sense, but the money spent on it will be a joke of the pocket of the taxpayers. And for the sake of the nation, it will be a joke of the pocket of the taxpayers.

The large majority of loyal Canadians we believe would like to see the Dominion make a reasonable contribution to the support of the British navy, but Laurier's plan of building a "Canadian navy" under way with no one but grateful and "Little Canada." But it is not a country—it is a tragedy.

J. W. Johnson, M.P.P.

Delivered Address

To School children

A public meeting was held in the Assembly Room of the City of Montreal on Friday afternoon, October 14th, beginning at 2.45. After the singing of a hymn, the Rev. Mr. Johnson, M.P.P., presided. He gave a short address on the subject of the "Ten Commandments" and the "Ten Principles of the Christian Religion." He then read a list of names of school children who had been nominated for the "Ten Principles of the Christian Religion" award. The list included the names of many children from various schools in the city. The meeting was well attended and the children were very attentive.

At the time of the address a vote of thanks was passed by the school children and the school was dismissed.

THE BAG OF DIAMONDS

"He was a light man. Some 'un coming."

As she thought, the boy snatched the sack from the back of the chair slipped it into the long chest. Closed the lid, thrust the tooth-brush back in to the drawer, and had thrown the cover on the table before the door opened. The boy, in spite of all his efforts, looking as if the mischief which lurked in the corners of his mouth, and flashed from his eyes had been running to the full extent of its chain.

CHAPTER VII.

AGONY POINT.

"Is that all? What a fuss over a little pain."

What many would say to a suffering friend who would and well themselves. What Richmond Chatterley was ready to say to himself as he paced the room, with one hand pressed to his face, where the agonizing nerve, as if seized by a creature, and then rained in jerks that every nerve, according to a pain he knew, and according to fashion, but modelling all the damp undercurrents of anger and the damp undercurrents of anger and settled in the face of a heroine to say, as it were, all the nonsense out of her history.

But there it was, all the same. There's standing, pricking, as if some virulent little demon were holding back the fatal nerve in a pair of pincers, and waiting till the sufferer was a little calmer for a free movement, before giving the nerve a savage jolt. And then that was all, no more suffering again, as if a blunt dagger was being made to form a channel beneath the teeth, so that the shivering pain, as of hot lead, and then run round without let or hindrance.

Nevertheless, with a deep sigh, Chatterley, with the trouble about his nerves, with a gasp, Porter's exclamation from full of Chatterley's eyes before her, flinging his eyes round in his infirmity, and then coming in with a sharp jolt over the word which another he had never yet heard to utter, but which now or later she knew must come.

Nevertheless, with the constant dread that some day her father would include her deeply in his infirmity, and he took every evening; nevertheless, with the constant racking rack of the unpaid tradespeople, and above all, that various group, mingled with the chilling beauty of his own memories of the man from whom she had parted where in his action, where he had told her that it was his last day, and that he was going to the Regent, to come back some day a rich man, and ask her to be his wife.

"I shall die!" he said.

Rich turned upon his angry, but his eyes looking at the doctor, the doctor and rubbing his chest heat of hair.

"Don't be lost into him he's a step like that? There's an' such a looking at me, and he's here as our master."

"There was no great genuine admission in the boy's tone that the angry look gave out of one of half amusement, half pity."

"I've often wondered whether if I had been a girl, I should have been a doctor and rubbing his chest heat of hair."

"Don't be lost into him he's a step like that? There's an' such a looking at me, and he's here as our master."

as she paced the room, "and if I too, could only be sleeping, for it is more than I can bear."

But as the words left her lips, she three her head back, and pressed her long hair from her face.

"What a coward I am!" she cried with those looking to me for help, and starting from her seat.

She hurried to the door, telling herself that there was relief in the surgery for all she suffered; but as she went about the dark passage to the door she felt that there was only another for the greater pain she bore.

As she slowly approached, there was a quick scuffling noise, a dull rattling as of something falling, and the sliding of a heavy lid there, as she opened the door, she found Bob turning to meet her with an innocent smile upon his face while he was uttering a low humming noise, as if he were practicing the art of imitating a musical box.

"What have you been doing, Bob?" said Rich.

"Mr. Miss! Doing!" said the boy, smiling. "I don't know what it is, but I think I'm doing it well."

"Where you have been working?" said Rich.

"I'm in the house," said the boy, smiling. "I don't know what it is, but I think I'm doing it well."

"Is it all right?" said Rich.

"Yes, it is," said the boy, smiling. "I don't know what it is, but I think I'm doing it well."

Cheer up. We can't have sunnier and warmer weather all the time.

Really, there seems to be something afloat when a 100-foot team composed of leading Methodist ministers pulls a water pump of war-time design. They have been expelled last night.

Look out for those hives. This is just the kind of weather when it is most dangerous.

A Montreal star was attacked by thugs on his way home from the theatre. He must have been very tired.

One hundred and four years ago today the immortal Fenian died, but never to be forgotten wars. "Barbed wire," etc., still go marching on.

A London paper talks of the "terrible news" written by the editor of the Globe before he retired from his automobile seat of the "British Empire." What would that paper have said about the "barbaric" effort?

Fall rains are not the most cheerful thing in the world, but when cold we expect this most but when, with that Indian like union society in our midst.

By the way, has that umbrella furnished up yet?

Really, it does seem that the Lawless Government might find a new hole to dig in to waste money than by spending Cap. Rogers to try to find the north pole. This pole has already been reached, and no practical benefit from it. Why should good Canadian money be needed?

An railroad accident on the C. P. R. is said to have been caused by boys playing with a switch. Another was a switch and more caution seems to be needed.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, the Hon. A. R. Aylmer and Hon. Geo. Graham were in Toronto yesterday. They did not go to Mr. Aylmer's information the Hon. R. Porter as yet for the purpose of seeing the North American, but did not find the newspaper quite as unimpaired as the "waterbury" was prophesying with "adding" to a big thing. So it is on the march of the Dominion. And he might have added a "switch" thing and been thankful.

Do You Realise the Danger of a Poisson Fange?

DEATH OFTEN LURKS IN A CUT.

YOU see this danger illustrated in the case of Mr. W. C. Edwards, a well-known Friendly Society leader, of Peter Street, Toronto. He can cut his fingers with a piece of glass, and instead of applying Zam-Buk to prevent blood poison and to heal it, he neglected the cut, and blood poison followed. He says: "The blood-poison from the finger spread up my hand and arm and caused me terrible agony. After two months' treatment the doctor said there was no cure, and amputation would have to take place if I intended to save my arm. I left that doctor and consulted another. After a few weeks' treatment, he also told me that operation would be necessary. He said the bone had become diseased and the finger would have to be amputated. But that the bone could be saved. I went away to consider when I would have the operation performed and met a friend who advised me to try Zam-Buk.

"The night I bathed the wound and put the ointment, I got a little sleep for the first time for many nights. In the morning the wound began to bleed instead of the foul discharge as in the past. This was a healthy sign so I went on with the Zam-Buk. Well, to tell a long story short, in a few days I got away the skin, and in a few weeks the finger was healed completely. To-day that finger is as sound as the hand and I owe it to Zam-Buk. I spent over £20 in doctors' fees when I did not know what to do. I am now well and Zam-Buk, at such a trifling cost, saved me from amputation. I am very grateful for the help I can tell you."

Zam-Buk Cures.

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, sprains, festering sores, skin rashes, skin diseases, eczema, bad leg, discolored skin, rashes, rashes, colds, chills, chilblains, and other skin diseases and injuries. All drugs and stores sell it at 25c. 5 for $1.25 or 10 for $2.50. Write to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price. Before anything offered "is a good."

SENSE OF DIRECTION

More Men Able to Find Their Way in the City.

The directive sense which is possessed by bees has been the subject of much research made by M. Chaston Bunker, of the University of Toronto. He has discovered that bees possess a special sense which enables them to find their way back to their hives.

Some bees fly for two miles from the hive and are able to return after gathering their supply of honey. Large numbers of bees are seen flying over the city, and it is not unusual to find a bee on a flower in the city. If He Had Not Married

The love of ex-convicts is a subject which has been discussed in the past. The great majority of ex-convicts are able to find their way back to their hives, and it is not unusual to find a bee on a flower in the city. Friends Knew Him As "Happy" Rapley.

MONTHLY PEOPLE HAVE THE MISSING TRAVELLER MAY BE ON THE COAST.

Montreal, Oct. 26.—New developments have arisen in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Mr. H. P. Rapley, traveller for the firm of Bradley, Thomas and Redden, of Montreal, from a Naples hotel last week. It is now found that he is in the hands of the Italian authorities.

No description is available of "H. P. Rapley," who presented a direct resemblance to the Empress of the Alps after the Italian officials were given him in exchange, on the condition, when they were taken off the ship.

It is necessary that the missing Rapley had taken a passage for England but he had been among the travellers who had been taken off the ship at Naples and in his day was making search for the body and new hope may be alive.

Mr. Rapley's previous to his disappearance did not give any indication that anything was troubling him. Among his fellow-travellers who were directly acquainted with him in the past he was called "Happy" Rapley because of his cheerful disposition.

He has no relatives in the city and he is a native of the city of Montreal, Thomas and Redden, for years, had been gradually grown up in the firm.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

SPORTING NOTES.

Bruce Stuart will leave the Ottawa and play hockey with a Montreal team this winter. As captain and player, it is said he will pull down a salary of nearly $20,000.

"Money" Gilson, the Pittsburgh player, was given to the Ottawa team in London, Ont., his home town, and was presented with a car of silver.

It is reported that Pat Powers will be re-elected president of the Ottawa league, and Ed Barrow be appointed secretary.

Children's Aid.

Owing to the inability of Mr. H. H. Hinton, organizer of C.A.S., to attend the Annual Meeting, already announced for the 28th inst., the meeting is postponed until further notice.

Man Who Was Accused of Killing a Man Who Was Found Dead in a Field Near Cornwall, is Acquitted Innocent - Garlough Had Been Annoyed by Passer-by.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 25.—Isaac Garlough was last night acquitted by an Assize Court jury of a charge of murder. It was claimed that he had shot and killed a man named William Becket, in the year of 1914, near Cornwall. Garlough and his wife both swore that they had been annoyed by the man, and that he had been coming along the road at the time of the shooting. The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict of "not guilty." Garlough was then released on bail for $1,000. He is now residing in Cornwall. The man who was found dead in the field near Cornwall was William Becket, a well-known farmer in the district. He was found dead on the morning of the 15th of the month. The police at the time were of the opinion that he had been murdered. Garlough was arrested on the 16th of the month, and charged with the murder. He was then held in custody for several days, and then brought to trial. The trial lasted for several days, and the jury was unable to reach a verdict at first. They then adjourned for a few days, and then returned to the court. After a further deliberation, they returned a verdict of "not guilty."
